•Letter from Michaelangelo:
•We have a full schedule that has been posted now. Very excited for the meetings and what they will bring to the attendance of the event.

Volunteers, we will need help manning the gate, serving the feast and tear down at night.
I will be in touch with our MOL about the tournament, as I will be in WS Circle directly before the beginning of the list.

Lady Mahara is in charge of the Harp elections, and has posted already about it.

Master Tom is retiring as doge and that fundraiser will be taking place all day. Typically the funds generated go to the general fund to be used where it's most needed. I was approached about the silent auction idea, but declined for this event due to the Doge already happening and suggested that Tri Baronial be a better option.

We currently have 20 reservations received as of Saturday, including comps. This is not for alarm as the schedule for TRMS reign shows only this trip up north the remainder of this calendar year. I will be taking money at every practice in November for feast reservations. Many wait until the last month before sending in reservations.

Lady Livia (sp) is making molds for kabuki masks. Once completed we will be able to make some at practices to be painted at Midwinter.

We have origami planned for the children, as well as the fans and kabuki masks for them to paint, but adults will be able to as well.

Baroness Shoshahna is close to a menu being published.

I don't know who has the stump, but that needs to be at musical chairs.
(Tom)

It's been posted, but we need to reiterate that only electric candles for feast.

War practice is at Tasc Sunday from 10-4. The normal fees are waived for the use of the facility, but a brass bowl will be placed out to offset operating costs.

One more month! lets go!

Caer Galen Midwinter

Saturday, December 9, 2017
United Church of Christ- Longmont, CO, 1500 9th Ave. LONGMONT, CO 80501 11am-11pm

Come one come all to the Isle of Japan. The Portugese and Spanish envoys have reached Koyoto and the country. 1550 japan is a time of the end of the civil war.

The Hospitality of The Barony of Caer Galen invites you to share in our Midwinter feast.

There will be fencing as the Captain of the Guard needs to be found. Sir Michaelangelo has promised an Awesome fun tournament.

There will be the Harp elections, as well as many fun activities involving fan and kabuki mask painting, a haiku competition....

As well the Doge of Caer Galen grows weary and wishes to retire. There will be new elections to find who so be worthy to assume the mantle of Doge.

At the pleasure of the Crown and Their Excellencies, there will be a fantastic feast following court. THL Shoshanha has assured to the masses that the feast will tease the palate and excite the flavor senses.

The site is BONE DRY...

The church has also asked that no open flames be used. So please leave your candles at home unless they are the battery kind.

Afterwards, the time honored tradition of Caer Galen Musical Chairs will commense,

Fees are as follows:
Site: 10 for adults
5 for youth 5-16
free for children under 5
There is a 5$ discount for members

Feast: reserved for 80. Prepayment guarentees your spot.
12 for adults and 7 for children 5-16
The family cap is 50 for paying members

C/O Pauline kurdt

(Taking reservations until December 5)

The Captain of the guard tournament!!!!

At 1 pm will commence the Captain of the guard tournament.

Throughout the year the Captain has been holding multiple tournaments in different weapons styles to prepare the next captain. As it will be, the tournament will be fought using those weapons styles.

As you are paired off each round, you will cast a single 6 sided dice. That number will determine what weapon style you will use for that round. Your opponent will also cast a die to determine theirs. This will happen each round.

Format will be set at the start of the tournament based on the number of entrants. You do not have to be going for the captains position to fight, as there is a prize for the overall winner as well. You also do not have to be a member of the Barony, but should you win, will need to be able to fulfill the duties.

Byes will be at the discretion of the Baron and Baroness.

Those who are vying for the captains position will be required to write a haiku. That haiku will be presented at the competition after the tournament.

Good luck and may the dice fall favorably!

Don Michaelangelo
Captain
